Time Line: 2017

The ELI branched out in two innovative ways during the pandemic. First, the ELI began to teach online English classes outside the regular Academic English ELI curriculum for groups of students from China. The ELI taught 300 students each semester during AY-2020. Through new contracts, the ELI is teaching another 150 students each semester during AY-2021. In addition, the ELI offered its full-time Academic English curriculum totally online to a cohort of 15 students, allowing them to continue their progress towards the 2+2 program completion in Economics at SU. Secondly, the ELI developed and began teaching a free class to adult learners in our local immigrant community. Both of the new initiatives outside the Academic English curriculum demonstrated the need to renumber the ELI curriculum and pursue a strategy to get Continuing Education Unit (CEU) courses approved at the university level. This process will ~~continue~~ in AY 202-22

GLOBAL LEARNING

There is no strategic priority under the Goal: Global Learning that is ~~designed~~ to internationalize on campus courses by means of embedded learning activities carried out online with our university program in IDIS began during AY ~~2019~~ and continued during AY ~~2020~~. We began a collaborative application with University of Cape Coast to host a Fulbright Scholar in Residence in the School of Nursing during AY ~~2022~~. Finally, we began negotiations with the National Student Exchange (NSE) that will provide SU students the opportunity for a semester of exchange at 150+ universities inside the USA, more than a dozen universities in Canada, and select universities in US territories in Guam, Puerto Rico, and the US Virgin Islands. We hope to complete all three of these negotiations during ~~AY~~. 2021
