

Report to the Faculty Senate

From: Ad Hoc Committee on Student Evaluations of Faculty Teaching

Date: April 10, 2024

The committee has reviewed relevant literature, SU's current practices, and considered best practices with respect to the role of Student Evaluations of Teaching (hereafter SET) for Below are our recommendations.

1. Faculty are expected to solicit student feedback on classroom experiences, particularly in the form of mid-semester formative evaluations, and use that information to guide adjustments in their courses. (See Appendix D) * Faculty are not expected/required to share the raw data of SET with supervisors or as part of Tenure or Promotion packets.
  - a. Faculty must continue to report on their responses to SET in their annual self-evaluation; inclusion of raw data in those reports is at the discretion of the individual faculty member.
  - b. Departments and schools are encouraged to use other practices for evaluating teaching that serve their programs, for example peer evaluations. GULLWEEK, as well as our courses, allow us to assess student learning.

end

Departments/schools will develop guidelines for teaching portfolio contents and structure (See Appendix C)

4. Full-time, tenure-track, faculty will participate in ongoing, small, interdisciplinary support groups for faculty development in teaching excellence as part of their progress toward Tenure. Schools, departments, and participating faculty will have discretion regarding meeting times and regularity to be NOT LESS THAN once per semester.
  - a. Effective / with the University's mission and General Education Program, and desire to support junior faculty.

- b. Optimal size for groups is no larger than 6 (7 with facilitator).
5. As part of the annual review process, supervisors are expected to engage in regular face-to-face meetings with junior faculty to discuss effective teaching strategies and practices.
